

Resource Profile

Visionera is seeking a specific combination of character and talent that sets us apart from our competition. Individuals must have experience at each business layer and understand how to navigate through each to successfully complete the assignments of our clients..

We are looking for a very special blend of technical savvy, business experience, process competency, conceptual strategic capacity all aligned with an execution based project management focus.

Strategy Skills

Has tremendous conceptual capacity and understands the strategic planning process.

Management Skills

Has been a corporate manager and understands what it takes to implement strategy, motivate people through change and measure performance. Is adept at managing a diverse team, via directive, facilitative and consultative approaches.

Business Skills

Understands corporate business departmental functionality. Is knowledgeable in how finances flow throughout the business from customer to supplier, from employees to shareholders. Is experienced in business function and processes.

Business Process Skills

Is highly competent in re/engineering business process to achieve business results efficiently. Understands how to streamline processes and align them to corporate and departmental strategy. Has the ability to join business, people, information, financial and I.T. process flow into an optimized delivery that is efficient and scalable.

Technical Skills

Has technical background and has a tight grasp on I.T. and how it supports business process. Development lifecycle management experience is a must, and I.T. project staffing and execution is clearly understood.

Project Management

Expert project manager who can take a set of objectives, assemble the resources plan the work and work the plan. Has the discipline to guide and coach the teams through the many stages while maintaining clarity of the end result.

For more information please contact:

Tom Davis, Senior Associate
303.725.1007
tdavis@visionera.com